NEW PHOTOPLAY —SELIG NIGHT TO-NIGHT—

The Selig Company will present a two reel feature to-night, "The Danities," a play that was very popular in the 70's, and which was played in Gettysburg in the old McClellan Opera House about that time. It is a very strong story of Western frontier life, dealing with the escape from slaughter of but two of a family and their being tracked by the ruffians. A TWO REEL WESTERN FEATURE.

The third reel will be Selig's "The Price Of Art".

3739 COLORED EXCURSIONISTS

Number Smaller than in Former Years and Crowd is well Behaved during Early Part of their Stay. Few Remain in Town.

Gettysburg's population was almost doubled today by the influx of exactly 3739 colored residents of Baltimore who started arriving in long excursion trains shortly after nine o'clock and kept on coming until afternoon.

This was the one colored excursion for which the Western Maryland asked the permission of the business people of Gettysburg and which privilege was readily granted. The event was in the charge of several negro Grand Army organizations and is supposed to represent the best element of negroes in the Monumental City.

But the railroad took no chances. Accompanying the various trains were railroad detectives a-plenty and the Reading railroad also sent a detail of three men here to prevent infractions of the law on their grounds near Round Top.

That resort was the objective point for most of the visitors as soon as they reached town and the trolley company, and those who enter to that sort of trade with teams early had all they could do to handle the crowds and get them safely to "the hill." Few of the Baltimoreans seemed to care anything about the battlefield, a day spent beneath the trees of the two Round Tops listening to a band seeming to be their idea of a good time.

In the town the visitors were as much in evidence as ever. The call of "crabs and crab cakes" was heard early in the morning and kept up throughout the day. It was a jolly, good natured bunch. The order was as good as could be expected among a crowd of similar size of paler folks, and during the morning and early afternoon there was nothing at all objectionable reported by the police.

Three were arrested upon their arrival here for disorder on the train but there was no disturbance in town.

SEE CLOSE RELATIONS

The Harrisburg Telegraph in an editorial says:

"Announcement that the management of the Gettysburg and Harrisburg Railroad is preparing for the semi-centennial celebration in the battlefield town next year by double tracking its line from Carlisle Junction to Gettysburg has a two-fold significance.

"In the first place, it gives us a good idea of the importance of the celebration, the wide interest that is being taken in it and the tremendous crowds that are expected. Even now Gettysburg's visitors frequently amount to many times its population, but the plans of the railroad are pretty sure evidence that the centennial throngs will completely overshadow those that have gathered there on previous occasions.

"The completion of this new construction work, which will furnish employment to hundreds of men, will give a double track all the way from Harrisburg to Gettysburg, and this will be the sure forerunner of better service, resulting in closer relations between the Adams county seat and the hub of Central Pennsylvania.

"This is the phase of the project that interests us most and which will bring the greatest benefits to the railroad and to the communities now wholly or in part dependent of it."

UNCLAIMED LETTERS

Parties calling for the above will please state that they were advertised. C. Wm. Beales, postmaster.

TO START WORK

Last week the New Oxford borough council granted a franchise to the Hanover and McSherrytown Railway Company and this morning engineers were put to work getting everything in shape for actual construction work on the line between New Oxford and Conowingo Chapel. Nothing definite is stated concerning the line from the Chapel to Gettysburg but there seems to be a strong probability of it being built between this time and July 1 of next year.

WILL DEDICATE NEW ST. JAMES

Ceremonies of Dedication at New St. James Church to Occur Next Sunday. To Continue Several Days Sermons by Former Pastors.

The exercises of dedication at the handsome new St. James Lutheran church will take place on next Sunday morning, September 15 and continue during Monday and Tuesday following.

At the 10.30 church service in the morning the sermon will be preached by Dr. J. A. Clutz and in the evening at 7.00 Dr. A. R. Steck, of York will preach the sermon. Both are former pastors. There will be a special Christian Endeavor meeting at six o'clock and there will be special music at all the services.

At the dedication in the morning a message from Rev. Joel Swartz will be read, the congregation will take part in a service of responsive readings and the prayer of dedication, and the keys to the church will be turned over from the contractor to the trustees.

Monday evening another service will be held in which a number will take part, the addresses being by Dr. J. A. Singmaster, chairman of the Seminary faculty, and Dr. W. A. Granville, president of the college. On Tuesday evening the last service will take place, the feature of which will be five minute talks by the pastors of the town. At the Monday and Tuesday evening services music by a men's chorus and by a women's chorus will be on the program.

The interior of the church will be finished early this week with the placing of the pews. A handsome dark green carpet has been laid adding materially to the beauty of the main auditorium; the light fixtures have been hung and only the placing of the pews remains to complete everything. On the exterior the light standards are yet to be put in position.

GOLD CHALICE

At a smoker held Friday night in the club rooms of St. Mary's school, McSherrytown, Rev. L. Aug. Reutter, who recently returned from an extended European trip, was presented by the members of St. Mary's parish with a gold chalice, studded with brilliant and bearing an inscription: "The gift of the people of McSherrytown to their beloved pastor."

The presentation came as a complete surprise to Rev. Fr. Reutter, who had received no inkling of any such presentation.

The presentation was made by Henry Roth and Rev. Fr. Reutter in reply expressed both his pleasure and surprise; also the hope to be left long among the people of St. Mary's parish.

PAINFULLY HURT

Taking fright at a trolley car at the corner of Baltimore and South streets Sunday afternoon a horse owned and driven by Daniel Utz, of near York Springs, became unmanageable, plunged and tore the backing strap and then started to kick. The dash board was kicked off and one of the horse's hoofs struck Mrs. Utz in the abdomen inflicting a very painful injury. A shaft was broken while the animal's antlers were in progress and the horse finally fell to the street but was only slightly scratched. Mrs. Utz was taken to the home of Mrs. Frank Williams, on York street, where she is now being cared for. Mrs. Williams is a sister of Mr. Utz.

WOMEN WERE BADLY HURT

Injuries to Women in Pen Mar Automobile Accident More Serious than Was First Supposed. Mr. Stauffer Very Ill.

Martin A. Stauffer, the Emmitsburg man who was so terribly injured by the automobile accident near Pen Mar Thursday night, has manifested some slight improvement in the Hagerstown hospital. He will not recover, the physicians say.

Friday they made a very careful examination of the injured man. By thrusting pins into his legs they ascertained that he was paralyzed from his hips to his feet. His spinal column is broken near the base. Mr. Stauffer retains consciousness.

He has a very accurate recollection of all that occurred from the time he left Pen Mar in his automobile, Thursday night. He recited all the incidents to his brother-in-law Jere M. Dutrow, Blue Ridge Summit, as Mr. Dutrow sat by his side in the hospital. He did not see his danger on the mountain until too late, then he shut off his engine, he said, but could not avert the accident.

The condition of Mrs. Stauffer is very serious, it is said. For awhile it was believed she had sustained almost no injuries but later developments show that she may be a long time in recovering. She was taken to her home, Friday evening.

Miss Marie Stauffer, sister of the injured man, is unable to walk. She is still suffering severely from the effects of the accident.

MRS. AMOS LEISTER

Mrs. Margaret Leister, widow of Amos Leister, died at her home on the Baltimore Pike at the edge of town at five o'clock Sunday morning aged 64 years and 9 months.

She leaves one son, James Leister, with whom she lived and the following sisters and brothers, Mrs. William Frey, of Gettysburg; Layton Treistle, of Straten township; George Treistle, of Altoona; Mrs. Mary Waters, of Steelton; Mrs. John Harner, of Emmitsburg; Peter Treistle, of Sibley, Iowa.

Funeral Tuesday afternoon at 1.30 from her late home conducted by Rev. J. B. Baker. Interment in Evergreen cemetery.

ENLARGING FACTORY BUILDING

On account of the increasing demand for their product the New Oxford Shoe Manufacturing Co., are obliged to increase the dimensions of their factory building. The new addition, work on which has been commenced will be of brick 40 x 58 feet, and will be erected to the rear of the present large building. The company is in need of lady operators. The number of employees will be increased as soon as the new addition is completed. The cigar factory of Miller and Brothers, now employing about 30 hands, like the shoe factories, is rushed with orders.

MADE THEM GIVE UP

Four negroes from Westminster visited the Jennie Wade house on Saturday afternoon and, while the clerk was engaged in getting something out of the bottom of a case, lifted between $7.00 and $8.00 worth of goods from the top. Mrs. R. C. Miller was notified of the theft and found the men at the Battlefield Hotel where she ordered them to give up the stolen property. They refused until she told some one to telephone for the police and then they very quickly handed over the stolen articles.

GENERALLY FAIR

Normal temperature for the season is predicted by the weather bureau for the coming week in the Middle Atlantic and New England states, the lake region, the great Central Valleys, the Plain states and the Rocky Mountain and Plateau region. In the Southern states moderately warm temperatures will prevail. Though the weather will be generally fair, fairly well distributed showers are probable in the Northern and Eastern states.

SAYS WHEAT CROP IS GOOD

Deputy Secretary A. S. Martin says that the wheat crop in Pennsylvania this year is very fair and that the wheat is full, large and well developed. Speaking of the crop he says:

"Much wheat was badly winter killed. This was owing to the fact of late seeding caused by unavoidable circumstances. Then the wheat had not a good start before the severe weather and heavy frosts set in. However, while the acreage of 1911 was more than the acreage of 1912 the yield of this year will still be greater owing to the magnificent quality of the grain harvested. Fully ten per cent of the wheat seeded last fall was winter killed. In 1911 there were approximately 17,000,000 bushels of wheat in this state; this year a conservative estimate places it at 18,000,000 bushels. Wheat here is practically harvested, but in some districts in which adverse conditions experts. When the outline has been made public it is the plan of State Superintendent Nathan C. Schaeffer to send out the department experts in manual training, agricultural education and drawing to assist in the organization of work and to stimulate interest in those features.

Professor L. H. Dennis, expert in agriculture, will make a tour of the agricultural counties this fall to explain the course in agricultural education which has been outlined. This outline has been sent to all county school superintendents for their consideration and will be submitted by them to school districts, so that the courses may be adopted. The assistance of the state in the way of advice will be given to such districts as request.

The four high school inspectors of the state are now grading the high schools of the state. Last season practically all of the schools were graded and the first complete report in their standing will soon be in the hands of the state educational authorities.

HEARTY LAUGHS

When those wild bucking bronchos with the Prairie Lillie and Nebraska Bill Wild West exhibition break loose then there is more real hearty laughter to the square inch than can be found in a score of circuses. They perform indescribable twists and turns in their endeavors to throw their riders, but the husky cowboy invariably remains seated, much to the displeasure of the beast. Twenty five of these bucking bronchos are carried with this show and they create untold merriment by their actions. The show will be in Gettysburg on Wednesday, September 12.

FOUR IN LOCK-UP

Four disorderlies were arrested during the past twenty four hours by Chief Shaefer who put them in the lock-up. Three were white and one colored. All were employed at the Gettysburg Water Company plant. One of the three white men gave the chief considerable trouble but he succeeded in taking care of his prisoner.

4 DEAD IN MOTOR-CYCLE RACE

Eddie Hasha Crashes into Crowded Bleachers.

GOING 92 MILES AN HOUR

Driver Was Instantly Killed and Others Had No Chance to Escape. Twenty Others Injured.

Newark, N. J., Sept. 9.—Four persons were killed outright and about twenty badly injured, some of whom it is believed will die, when a motor-cycle speeding at ninety-two miles an hour around the motordrome got beyond the control of its driver and crashed into the bleachers.

The driver of the motorcycle, Eddie Hasha, twenty-one years old, of Waco, Texas, was instantly killed when the machine struck a huge plank John Albright, another rider, is dead.

The others killed were seated in the bleachers and had no chance to get out of the way of the machine. Two of these were boys in knickerbockers and the other was a man. The twenty injured, all of them men and boys, some of them unconscious, were hurried away to the City hospital, all of them badly injured.

Hasha's wife saw the accident to her husband and she fainted as she saw the machine go up the perpendicular track directly in front of the bleachers and drive up against the plank. Hasha was hurled against the plank and nearly every bone in his body was broken.

The machine, free of its rider, then bounded back to the track and struck John Albright, of Denver, Colo., an other rider in the race, and hurled him from his machine. He was rendered unconscious and died in the hospital.

Mrs. Albright, with her two children, who were seated in the grand stand, close by the scene of the accident, became hysterical as her husband was hurled from his machine and was one of the first persons to reach him after the spill. She remained with him all the time and rode in the ambulance with him to the City hospital.

The accident created a panic among the spectators at the track, and in the mad rush to get out of the way of the cycle hundreds of men and women trampled over each other.

Many of them were badly bruised and cut, but none of them was seriously injured.

The race, the last of the day's schedule, was a four-mile free-for-all, in which six contestants started. They were Eddie Hasha, Ray Seymour, of Los Angeles, Cal., who were on scratch; John Albright, of Denver, Colo.; Ray Peck, of Los Angeles, Cal., who had a quarter of a mile handicap; John King, of Newark, and his brother, Frank King, of Denver, Colo., who had a half mile handicap.

The accident occurred on the second lap of the race. Seymour and Hasha were going neck and neck as they turned into the stretch. As they approached the bleachers Seymour forged ahead of his opponent. Suddenly Hasha's machine was seen to shoot up the side of the almost perpendicular track. At the end of this part of the track, directly in front of the bleachers, there are three perpendicular boards and then three feet of wire netting, intended to prevent any of the riders from riding into the crowd in the bleachers.

Over these the flying cycle sped, with Hasha still in the seat. As the machine went over the wire netting it struck the big plank overhanging from the bleachers, and Hasha was hurled against it headfirst and killed instantly. The body of the rider was hurled into the mob of spectators, who had been unable to get out of the way, killing three of them outright and injuring about twenty others.

The machine, after striking the plank, bounded back upon the track just as Albright came flying along on his machine. He was traveling so fast that he was unable to get out of its way and he crashed into it and was hurled out upon the road.

He landed in a heap and slid along the track for several yards and lay there unconscious.

The red flag was used against the other riders, and they slowed down as soon as possible and left the track the race remaining unfinished.

The spectators became panicky and were running around wildly for several minutes afterwards.

Dies in His Tilted Chair.

Williamsport, Pa., Sept. 9.—A neighbor passing the home of George Ikenry, who lived alone in Clinton township, saw the old man sitting in a chair on the porch, his head resting against the boards of the house. The old man made no reply when spoken to, and it was then discovered that he was dead. He had passed away so peacefully that the chair in which he sat had not tipped forward.

Killed by Fall Down Stairs.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 9.—Making a mistake in the dark, John Ruth, of Philadelphia, who is employed in the auditing department of the Pennsylvania railroad there, plunged down a flight of stairs at his sister's home and suffered injuries from which he died half an hour later.

EXPECT CLOSE VOTE IN MAINE TODAY

Both Democrats and Republicans Predict Victory.

Portland, Me., Sept. 9.—Maine's state election is being held today, and the opinion of those who pretend to be informed of the sentiment of the voters as between the Republican and Democratic ticket are so conflicting that the conclusion is that the vote is likely to be close, with the chances favoring the re-election of Governor Plaisted by a smaller plurality than two years ago.

If the prognostications of the Democratic prophets are based upon sound information the election is to be a Democratic landslide; but if the Republican managers have more accurately divined the intentions of the voters, W. T. Haines is to be chosen governor by a few thousand.

Several conspicuous members of the Progressive party, who are favorable to the cause of Mr. Haines, but who are more interested in carrying the state for Colonel Roosevelt in November, privately express the opinion that whether Haines or Plaisted is victorious depends upon the showing made by the Republicans of Cumberland county, particularly in Portland. The Progressive party has no candidates for state offices, but hopes to have an effective organization in the coming legislature.

FAMILY TUSSED IN AUTO

Five in Car Struck by Engine and Two May Die.

Phoenixville, Pa., Sept. 9.—Two members of the family of Harry A. Mengel, a telegraph operator at Pawling, Pa., are near death in a hospital here, and the three others are seriously injured as the result of a collision between an automobile and a locomotive at Perkiomen Junction.

The five persons injured form the entire family of Mengel, and were on their way to visit Mrs. Mengel's parents.

The injured are: Harry A. Mengel, hurt internally and badly lacerated; Mrs. Eva Mengel, probably fatally injured internally, head cut and injury to spine; May Mengel, six years old, left thigh broken, head cut and concussion of the brain; Vita Mengel, aged four, left leg broken, cut and bruised; Viola Mengel, aged three, general contusions and concussion of the brain.

The road to the home of Mengel's father-in-law, George Brown, is not frequently traveled and the clear view of the northbound track of the Reading railway is obscured by the station structure. As Mengel approached, came along, northbound, running light, came along.

Two railroaders saw the car start across the tracks. They shouted a warning, but Mengel had no time to heed it. He turned the automobile slightly as if endeavoring to avoid the collision, but the whole machine was over the rails when the leading locomotive struck the ill-fated party.

The automobile was pushed along the tracks for 200 feet and then was hurled against a telegraph pole as it turned turtle. Mrs. Mengel and two of her daughters were occupying the rear seat and were thrown into an adjoining field. The other little girl fell along the rails, and the father, held in by the steering wheel, remained in the car until it overturned. He was the least injured.

HORSE PLAGUE STIRS KANSAS

Governor Asks Taft For Aid of Experts.

FEAR HUMAN INFECTION

Washington Experts Say It Is Due to Feed, Is Not Contagious and Cannot Be Cured.

Topeka, Kan., Sept. 9.—With 5000 horses already dead, the funeral fires at night setting the sky of western Kansas aglow, and the disease spreading to cattle of the twenty-six counties so far affected, Governor Stubbs wired again to President Taft, begging for immediate help. The governor's message was:

"Our repeated requests upon the department of agriculture for assistance in combating disease among horses in this state seems to have been received with unpardonable neglect or indifference to the situation. Those in charge have answered our calls for help by insisting that the trouble is local and of no consequence, when more than 5000 horses have died in an area that has increased from eight to twenty-six counties. They hold to a theory that has been exploded for more than two weeks. It is my belief that the devastating disease will cover the entire state and extend into other states before it can be stopped, unless the department at Washington wakes up. I want you to know of its inefficiency in this crisis."

This action was taken following a telegram from the bureau of animal industry at Washington, stating that the bureau had information the disease was entirely a local matter and that the government would not give assistance.

Hutchinson and other Kansas towns report that sulphur, linseed oil and other medicines used by the farmers have been used up, and wholesale lots are being rushed westward by express. Farmers' work animals are dropping in the fields dead, neighbors turning to help the victims only see their own horses die. Great Bend, Kan., reports that chickens, too, are dying. Experts differ as to the cause. Mouldy feed is blamed.

Governor Stubbs wired 100 towns and twenty state agricultural colleges. Of the towns he asked that only well water be given horses.

"The agricultural college bacteriologists have found diplococci in the blood of some of the dead horses," said Dr. Crumblin. "A certain variety of diplococci causes spinal meningitis in the humans. We are going to find if the diplococci found in the horses is the same as that which causes meningitis in children. If it is, there is great danger to the citizens of Kansas, and we want to stop the disease spreading to the people. I received a report from Jetmore that a man who had been working with dead horses for some time was suddenly stricken with a disease, the symptoms of which are similar to meningitis. We will go direct to visit this case and then make a thorough study of the disease to see if it might be communicated to persons."

In some of the towns residents are in a panic for fear the disease will be communicated to them. Great Bend says chickens are dying by the dozens from the mysterious cause and it is believed the scourge is to blame.

SAYS IT IS FORAGE DISEASE

Is Not Contagious Among Horses and Cannot Be Cured.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Dr. John R. Mohler, chief of the division of pathology of the bureau of animal industry under whose direction an investigation of the mysterious disease reported to have caused the death of 5000 horses in Kansas is being made, said:

"The disease is known as forage poisoning, due to a species of mould, which sometimes appears on hay and grain and on grass which has been parched by summer droughts. It is not contagious among horses and cannot be communicated to man by an infected horse. It is peculiar to horses."

Dr. Mohler said that fear of human beings becoming infected with the disease aroused by the discovery of the germ, diplococci, in the blood of a horse which died from the disease is groundless. Varieties of this germ, locomotives, running light, came along.

The disease, which is generally fatal to horses, he said, had often been the subject of investigation by the department in the past. No cure had ever been discovered for it.

"The only method of treatment we advise," said Dr. Mohler, "is the removal of the stock to feeding lots of green alfalfa or other green feed. It is like cancer in man; as far as science has been able to discover, it is incurable. On the other hand, it is not infectious."

Threatened Girl; Man Is Killed.

Craigsville, Va., Sept. 9.—Warner M. Pomblin was shot and killed while resisting arrest for threatening to kill a girl for refusing to marry him. Tomblin boarded with a Mrs. Hicks, who is said to have promised him her daughter in marriage when the girl became fifteen years old. When she reached that age a few days ago Miss Hicks refused to marry him.

TWO BATTING KINGS OF MAJOR BALL LEAGUES

Tyrus Cobb, Champion of American League.

At the half way mark of the two major league seasons, Cobb and Zimmerman are leading their respective leagues in the matter of batting prowess. In the American the lead for several weeks was held by Tris Speaker, the sensational outfielder of the Boston Americans. Ty Cobb, however, in the last week or two has batted in remarkable form. In four successive games in Philadelphia he made 14 hits in 18 times at bat against the Athletic pitchers, and these hits included two home runs, three three-baggers and three two-baggers. As the result he has advanced to the head of Ban Johnson's

NOTES of the DIAMOND

Umpire Brick Owens wears steel shoes while on the job. He has corns.

Infielder Mattick of Keweenaw is a brother of the Chicago White Sox outfielder.

And, after all, Rube Marquard was the first Giant pitcher to lose three straight.

New York writers say that the present St. Louis Browns club is the worst in the world.

Tesreau is the biggest man in the big leagues. He weighs 241 pounds. He is wild, but not savage.

The way "Dingdong" Bell is going with Newark gives a hint that he may be back in the big show next year.

New York isn't going to pledge it self on the coming election until it hears how Rube Marquard is going to vote.

Eppa Rixey's family is much disturbed because he is determined to follow the career of a professional ball player.

Rube Oldring says Amos Strunk is the fastest man in baseball today, and believes he is faster than Craig of Olympic fame.

Jack Lelivelt, once a star on the Washington team, probably will be signed by the Yanks, along with Tommy McMillan.

Fred Clarke is to retire as manager of the Pirates next year and Billy Murray is to succeed him. Oh, yes, merely a rumor.

Silk O'Loughlin is getting to be a tremendous disciplinarian. The other day in a game at Philadelphia he even banished the bat boy.

Cy Young says that all the really great ball players come from the country. For instance, Cub Helme Zimmerman of the Bronx.

Cy Barger of the Dodgers is surely a tough-luck pitcher. Cy has started nine games this season and was pounded off the slab eight times.

Talk about winning streaks, in 1875 Boston had a team that didn't lose a game on the home grounds all season and only twelve on the road.

The Pirates have dug up a fast outfielder in Eddie Menor, of the Portland club of the Northwestern league, paying $3,000 in cash for the price.

Marty O'Toole, the high-priced twirler of the Pirates, has been having his share of hard luck. He has pitched several fine games only to lose them.

Jake Stahl is not overconfident that his bunch will be able to pull through. The Woodlawn banker is too good a business man to figure anything a sure thing.

Washington fans are going to present Clyde Milan with a gold crown at the end of the season—though what the dickens he'll do with it nobody knows.

St. Louis says that Arnold Heuser of the Cardinals has shoved Mike Doolan of the Phillies off the map as the best fielding shortstop in the game today.

McGraw says: "You can have your Cobbs, your Lajoles, your Chases, your Bakers and all the rest, but I'll take Hans Wagner for mine as the greatest ever."

George McConnell, the elongated twirler of the Highlanders, has been pitching good ball this season. Steady work has made McConnell a consistent performer.

Cloth Made From Seaweed.

By a process recently developed in England a very desirable cloth is made from the fiber of posidonia australis, a species of seaweed found in the southern seas. Experiments made at Manchester university show that the fiber, after treatment, is soft, pliable, strong, much like wool in its disposition to curl and twist, and easy to spin in its raw state. It takes dye well, except green.

swatters with an average of over 400. In the National league, Heinie Zimmerman, the hard-hitting third baseman of the Chicago Cubs, continues his work with the stick and has a comfortable lead over all his rivals, with figures of about 400. Zimmerman is also doing some great long-distance clouting.

That's What the Umpire's For!

Umpire George Hildebrand of the Pacific Coast baseball league cites the following plays as the hardest on the diamond to judge: Players running out of base lines; an interference play; three men on the bases, scored tied and two strikes and three balls on the batter; runner missing bag with winning run going over the plate; calling balk on pitchers; with single umpire, to be in position to give a decision with a man on first and a man on third.

Mrs. Havenor, owner of the Milwaukee team, says she is well satisfied with Hughie Duffy as manager of the Brewers and that he will be there another season.

Love Element in Writer's Lives.

Alfred de Musset's love for irresponsible George Sand gave his thoughts such an extraordinary elevation that he wrote many brilliant poems in consequence. Chaucer sang the praises of many queens, but his one great love was Philippa Picard de Rouet, the Lady-in-Waiting to Queen Anne of Bohemia. He waited nine years to marry her, but made it a matter of complaint in several poems.

Governor of Maine Hopes For Re-election Today.

RUSHING ANTHRACITE COAL TO MARKET*All Records Being Broken in Schuylkill Region.

Pottsville, Pa., Sept. 9.—Never before in the history of the anthracite coal shipping trade in this region has there been the boom that is now being experienced from the scene of production, through the various railroad branches to the main line, which carries the coal to tidewater points.

All the Schuylkill departments of the various coal corporations are working record time. There is a demand for men, and daily there are hired at the Palo Alto dispatcher's offices of the Reading from twenty five to fifty men for duty in the coal train service.

The new Mahanoy Plane, by hoisting from 500 to 700 cars of coal daily, has thus far avoided a stagnation of the traffic from the mines in the central shipping points. The new $1,000,000 yard between St. Clair and Mill Creek is now receiving its first severest test since it was opened for traffic. The Reading officials expect no let-up in this coal boom, as well as at the mines as on the rail, for at least two months, and full producing capacity will be exacted of the collieries and washeries all winter.

PICKET KILLS IN COAL WAR

Trooper Shoots Assailant Who Fired on Him From Ambush.

Charleston, W. Va., Sept. 9.—Artiller George Long, Company B, shot and killed one of the attacking party while on picket duty near Sharon, in the Kanawha coal field.

This is the first fatal shooting since martial law was declared by Governor Glasscock in the strike region. Long was on sentry duty near a wood and had been fired on a number of times from ambush. He noted the spot from which the bullets appeared to come and fired, killing one of the attacking party.

BATTLE IN NICARAGUA

Insurgents Defeated and Many Lives Lost.

Panama, Sept. 9.—News of an important battle in Nicaragua were received by Dr. Marease Velasquez, Panamanian minister to that country.

The message, which comes from the Nicaraguan minister of finance, Pedro Rafael Cuadra, says that the government forces captured Pagaya and Saratoga, important positions dominating the city of Masaya, which is held by the insurgents.

The fighting was severe and many lives were lost, but the exact number of casualties is not stated.

WON'T DECLARE WAR ON MEXICO

Armed Intervention Not Planned by United States.

TAFT SENDS MORE CAVALRY

President Has Demanded More Active Steps Be Taken to Protect Americans.

Washington, Sept. 9.—There will be no war declared on Mexico by the United States. At least there will be no such declaration until after the November election.

Congress may be summoned into extraordinary session for the purpose of considering the Mexican situation, as was intimated by dispatches from the summer White House at Beverly, but it will not consent to any such move as the declaration of war on Mexico. About the most congress would do under the circumstances would be to authorize the president to join with other nations in landing troops anywhere in the Mexican republic that foreign property and lives were menaced—after the manner pursued jointly by the nations in China at the time of the Boxer uprisings.

This would serve the purposes of protecting our interests in Mexico until order has been restored or until it has been absolutely demonstrated that order cannot be restored by the Madero administration.

This would be more satisfactory to other nations than for the United States to declare war on the Mexican republic, and then have another long squabble as to what to do with the country after we had whipped it.

Then there is another consideration at which congress would balk. Whipping Mexico would be no summer's day job. The character of the country, topographically, and the guerrilla methods of fighting which the Mexicans pursue would make it impossible for any nation to restore order in Mexico inside of a generation.

Even though we should seize the entire federal machinery of the Mexican government, proclaim ourselves the owners and rulers, that would not stop the wandering bands of guerrillas in the mountain fastnesses from keeping their communities in perpetual terror and all property and life in jeopardy.

The president Saturday ordered Leonard Wood, chief of staff, to dispatch two more regiments of cavalry to the Texas border. The regiments will be sent from Fort Riley, Kan., and Fort D. A. Russell, Wyo. So far as the president was informed, there will be no immediate need for more troops in Texas, but conditions along that border have grown worse in the last few weeks.

It is in the southern part of Mexico, however, that the president has learned of intolerable conditions affecting Americans. There the Madero government, according to the Washington information, is utterly unable to cope with the revolutionists, and there seems to be little prospect that the situation will improve.

The president is known to have communicated a demand within the last few days that President Madero be more active in the protection of Americans. He is hopeful that this reminder, meant for the ears of the Mexican president and for its foreign office as well, will be fruitful of results in both southern and northern Mexico.

The situation south of the Mexican capital is regarded as particularly dangerous to Americans, because the revolutionists there apparently have much less fear of an American invasion than their brothers in the north. The only feasible plan for protection of Americans there, Mr. Taft has been told, would be to send troops to some gulf port of Mexico.

Woman's Fight Closes Resorts.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Every resort in West Hammond, for the first time in years, was closed as a result of the fight of Miss Virginia Brooks against vice. Meantime, the investigation brought about by Miss Brooks proceeded. Ten women taken into custody will be held as witnesses against Henry Foss and Cornelius Moore, arrested in connection with the death of John Messmaker, in Foss' resort.

Bolt Kills Boy Under Tree.

Harrington, Del., Sept. 9.—Peter Erdle, the nineteen-year-old son of James Erdle, a well-known farmer living near here, was killed by lightning. He and his father were standing under a tree watching their horses, as the rain had not started to fall, when a bolt of lightning struck a chain that connected the tree with a hammock. The tree was splintered and the elder Erdle was injured, but not seriously.

NO CRIME TO KISS GIRL ON STREET

That is, If She Happens to be Your Fiancee.

Philadelphia, Sept. 9.—According to Magistrate Scott, it is no crime to kiss a girl when on the streets of Philadelphia.

The magistrate was called upon to render this decision when Harold Luder was called before him, having been arrested for kissing Miss Hilda Young, of 3216 Montgomery avenue, his fiancee, when he was leaving her to board a car for his home.

"Why, this boy has committed no crime," said the magistrate. "Things have come to a pretty pass when a man cannot kiss his girl on the street. If this keeps on it will be high time for the young people to move out and the crippled and feeble minded to move in. If a good, clean young man must hide his head under a bucket or crawl under a barn when he wants to kiss a nice, sweet girl, then I say it is about time for Gabriel to toot his horn and set off the big blast. If a girl is good enough to be kissed she ought to be kissed out in the open so that everybody can see it, and no one likes to do it and see it more than I."

He discharged Luder forthwith.

QUEEN OF NIGHT LIFE SLAIN

Head Nearly Severed in Growsome Tragedy of Robbery.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 9.—With the head nearly severed from her body and arms and trunk frightfully slashed, Lydia Berger, known as the most beautiful woman of night life in this city, was found in her bed by her maid.

The walls of the room in which the body lay were covered with blood and the carpet was saturated. Thousands of dollars' worth of diamonds and other jewels worn by the woman are missing, and it is believed robbery was the motive. It is thought that before death the woman tried to give an alarm, as the window curtains and the window pane are covered with bloody finger prints.

PUFFS SAVE GIRL RIDER

Prevent Death When She Falls in Path of Racing Horses.

Charter Oak Park, Hartford, Conn., Sept. 9.—Thick rats and puffs saved the life of Miss Pearl Barber, twenty-one years old, when she was thrown and nearly trampled by the field as she lay prostrate on the track during the ladies' handicap at the grand circuit races.

Seeing her fall, other women riders pulled up their mounts short and made a circuit around her. One lifted their horses bodily over her. She was unscathed from the hoofs, but was unconscious. The doctors declared that only the fact that she wore thick rats and puffs prevented a fractured skull. She was badly shaken up.

Rose Grows In Chicken.

Chemawa, Ore., Sept. 9.—An almost fully blown small Martha Washington rose was discovered incased in a double set of protective tissue in a Plymouth Rock hen killed by Mrs. Florence Matthes. Despite the fact that several weeks must have elapsed since the swallowing of the bud to enable it to have become so contorted, the flower had not undergone decay.

The KITCHEN CABINET

NEVER bear more than one kind of trouble at a time. Some people bear three—all they have now, all they ever had, and all they expect to have.

COMPANY DISHES.

What a feeling of security it gives a housekeeper to have in her store room, pantry or cake box some of the needed accessories for a meal. She is a more gracious hostess and one which it is a delight to visit. Behind the forced smile of welcome, how many a heart has sunk because there was nothing in the house to offer a friend.

Just have a few things that are kept for emergencies, and if used are quickly supplied. One does not like to offer bountiful cakes or cookies to guests, as the recipes which we consider so choice and of which we are justly proud, make such delightful things at much less cost.

A small cake which can be put into the store room in a jar and covered to keep from drying your friends will always ask for it. The recipe is:

Fruit Cake.—Seed and cut in quarters a pound of dates, add a cup of coconut or other nuts as desired; two cups of flour, a cup of shortening, a teaspoonful of cinnamon, a grating of nutmeg, teaspoonful each of vanilla and lemon, less of lemon if it is not agreeable, a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in half a cup of boiling water, a cup and a half of sugar, a teaspoonful of salt and three well beaten eggs. Add the soda and water the very last. Bake in gem pans a tablespoonful in each. This recipe makes about thirty small cakes, which will keep and grow better with age.

There is something uncommonly appetizing about sardines used in sandwiches. One may always have a few boxes of these on hand for a quick lunch.

Pimento cheese, with saltines and coffee, is a dessert which will be enjoyed.

A cup of dry cheese grated and mixed with a little tabasco sauce or cream, red pepper and onion juice or other seasonings, will keep, if covered with a cloth dampened with vinegar.

The delicious sauces which may be added to ice creams and make them so much more elegant may be put up in fruit season, and will always be ready when needed.

Salmon mixed with coconut and a few chopped pickles, moistened with a small amount of salad dressing, served on lettuce, makes a very nice salad, and not a common one.

A few cooked peas left from dinner, if washed from the sauce in which they were served, added to a slice or two of tomato, a bit of chopped onion and a lettuce leaf makes another salad good enough to set before company.

Nellie Maxwell.

BEST be the hands that toil to aid the great world's countless need—The hands that never are afraid To do a kindly deed.

WAYS TO USE PEANUTS.

Peanuts are good with bread crumbs prepared as a loaf baked, served with tomato sauce as a meat loaf.

When the nuts are ground and mixed with creamed butter or sweet cream, a very good sandwich filling results.

For salad, they are good in combination with cabbage or sprinkled over lettuce, served with French dressing.

Peanut butter makes a variety for the flavor of soup, using the peanut butter and one tablespoonful of butter with two of flour for the binding of a cream soup.

Peanut Butter Fudge.—Boil together five minutes two cups of confectioner's sugar, a half cup of sweet milk, and four level tablespoonfuls of peanut butter. Pour into a buttered platter and cut in squares when cool enough.

Peanut Nougat.—Shell and remove the skins from a pound of peanuts; chop fine and sprinkle with a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt. Put a pound of sugar in a clean granite sauce pan and stir over the heat until melted. When a rich brown, add the nuts and pour into a greased pan. Mark off in squares. If the nuts are added as soon as the sugar is melted, the candy is of a different consistency, liked by many.

Peanut Candy.—Prepare a quart of peanuts, as above; roll them with a rolling pin until like coarse bread crumbs. Boil together six ounces of butter and a pound of light brown sugar for ten minutes, stirring constantly to keep from burning; add the peanuts, and when cool mark off in squares. If carefully made, this is by far the best peanut candy one may make at home.

Nellie Maxwell.

It's a toss-up between milking out in the cool yard where mosquitoes and flies pester the cows and the tall works like perpetual motion, and the darkened barn, with a row of hot cows adding to the heat of the day.

It is very important that the pastures of the dairy cows should be kept free from all weeds or plants which will impart a bitter or disagreeable taste to the milk or butter. Ragweeds, especially, should be mowed off every time they start up.

SCIENCE and INVENTION

LIFE PRESERVER IS SIMPLE

Chief Advantage Is That It Can Be Carried in Pocket—Can Be Inflated in Short Time.

A new and convenient form of life preserver has been designed by a man in the state of Washington, and probably its chief advantage is that it can be carried in the pocket by all persons, making them independent of the equipment of the boat they are on. An air tight bag has a tube at one end by which it can be expanded and a drawing string to close that end after it has been inflated. It thus forms a sausage shaped bag which can be fastened around the neck and which, when inflated, will provide sufficient buoyancy to keep the wearer's head above the water. The importance of this little apparatus can be seen at a glance, for with one of them in a pocket or handbag a man or woman may feel reasonably safe on the water. It requires only a few moments to inflate.

BEEES AS RHEUMATISM CURE

Medical Authorities, After Thorough Examination, Say Sting Has Curative Value.

In a recent issue of the Farm and Fireside is an account of the use of bee-stings as a cure for rheumatism. This cure has been thoroughly examined by some of the great eastern medical colleges and endorsed by them as scientific. The essence of the cure lies in the formic acid which bees inject into the blood. Following is a brief extract from the article:

"One sting will not cure your rheumatism, neither will two or three, but if you let one bee sting you every day your rheumatism will soon disappear. That's what some prominent physicians say who are watching an interesting experiment in Cincinnati, O."

"John Renner, of Cincinnati, long a sufferer from rheumatism, is taking the bee-sting cure. At the time this is being written he has already taken two weeks of the treatment, about 17 stings, and he likes it. At first hardly able to hobble about with the aid of a cane, Renner can now walk almost as sprightly as any person. It is estimated by physicians that the poison injected into his system by the sting of bees has made the marked change in his chronic condition."

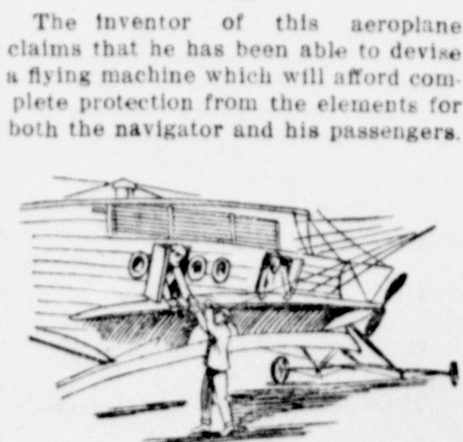

"Only a few cases are on record where bees were used to cure rheumatism. Mr. Fred W. Muth became interested in bee culture through his having rheumatism. Now he has bees and no rheumatism."

"Physicians who are watching this interesting experiment say that the formic acid which makes the sting of the bees so sharp and painful for the moment is the agent which nullifies the dreadful rheumatic pains. Sharp and painful as the stings are, it is a pain of relief compared to the dull and incessant pain of the rheumatism," declares Renner, the patient.

"In the above novel treatment the patient visits the apiary twice each week, taking from three to five stings at each visit. After the system is once inoculated with formic acid of the bee-stings the person becomes immune to rheumatic attacks."

AVIATION ABSOLUTELY SAFE
Inventor of New Machine Claims Device Affords Complete Protection From Elements.

The inventor of this aeroplane claims that he has been able to devise a flying machine which will afford complete protection from the elements for both the navigator and his passengers.

He also claims that his novel machine renders aviation absolutely safe. An ingenious pneumatic system aids the aviator in controlling the steering of the machine and manipulating the various planes with which it is equipped.

Cowpeas or soy beans are frequently sown in standing corn at the time of the last cultivation or they can be sown after such early-harvested crops as wheat have been removed in case it is not too late in the season.

Those who contemplate starting an alfalfa patch should bear in mind this one fact, that under ordinary circumstances no one factor will contribute so much to the success of the crop as an application of farmyard manure.

Capons are profitable.

Pack all fruit carefully.

Cows need pure, fresh water.

There is always a demand for turn keys.

Oats and peas will not inoculate ground for alfalfa.

No ewe should be bred until she has reached maturity.

Concrete floors in the cow stables are sanitary and easily cleaned.

The size of an apple can be influenced to quite a large degree by picking.

Don't let the cows out in the storms to stand around. It doesn't pay.

The colder the milk when separated the greater the loss of fat in the skim milk.

The cows that produce the largest amounts of butter fat do it most economically.

The calves should by all means be kept in clean, well-lighted and ventilated stables.

A proper kit for farm work is about as handy a thing as the average farmer can buy.

A ten-cent bolt now may save a dollar's worth of time when the rush of work comes.

You cannot fatten a brood sow and fatten a hog alike and make the best success of both.

A gallon of cream testing 25 per cent should churn a little over two pounds of butter.

The object of cow testing and keeping record is to improve the herd and increase the output.

Frequent stirring of the soil is said to be a good preventive of rust forming on the cultivator.

Look out for the potato bugs on the tomato and eggplant plants. They prefer them to the potatoes.

For sandy land the mammoth red clover has proved superior to alsike or the medium red varieties.

A good night pasture is the cow's delight, and a delighted cow is more profitable than a discouraged cow.

If the soil leaves the plowshare shiny and wet, wait a day or two. Wet plowing makes a cloddy ground.

In looking for an occupation that will return pleasure as well as profit take up the breeding of fancy poultry.

Guessing at the quantity of salt to put in butter is a little risky. An ounce to the pound is about the right proportion.

Nurse the young clover and the alfalfa; plan more of both another season, also a large acreage of root crops and pumpkins.

A hen that goes around with her mouth open is not a comfortable hen; she is too warm. Give her a place to sit down and cool off.

Ventilation in the chicken house is a very important consideration, and the health of the fowls in a great measure depends on it.

The value of cowpeas as a stock feed crop is now firmly established and will grow in favor as they become more generally known.

Get rid of male birds except those to be kept for breeding. They are star boarders and eat up the profits of the flock.

Keep away from the corn roots when giving the plant the last cultivation; they will be needed in further developing a good crop of corn.

Begin to check the colt early if you would have an easy time with the work and a well-broken horse. A two-year-old is easier to break than a four-year-old.

If you intend to plant a few choice trees next spring, dig large holes for them this fall, fill them with manure, removing it next spring and filling in up to the desired depth for the tree.

The farmer who raises fruit for his own family should have a much larger variety than the commercial orchardist because the latter must produce enough of each kind to ship to advantage.

A stumbling habit may be caused by poor shoeing, or it may be caused by ignorant or careless hitching. Too tight checking is often the cause. Sometimes a harsh bit with a tight check rein will destroy the balance, and the horse is liable to fall.

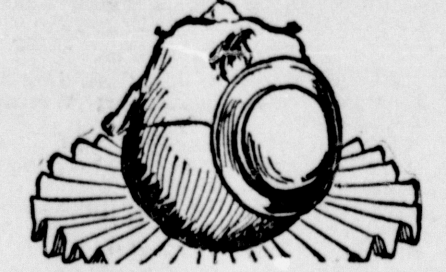

While the hog is a debt payer, it is necessary for the breeder, farmer or feeder to manage so as to make the greatest amount of money at the least cost in the quickest time. To do this there is nothing of more importance than feeding alfalfa.

The breast of the Indian game is very much like that of the pheasant or the prairie chicken. The left of the meat lies on the breast.

Veal calves in hot weather will grow better if kept during the day in a dark, cool stable, but the stable must be cleaned out and well ventilated.

Unless the little turkeys are allowed free range all the time, they should be kept shut in on rainy days and mornings when there is a heavy dew.

ON THE FUNNY SIDE

True to His Town.
"Doc, can I live much longer?"
"Not with your present mode of life."

"It's tough to go at sixty."
"You could live to be a hundred if you really wanted to."

"How, doc? Tell me how."
"By living in the Balkans on fermented buttermilk."

"I knew there was a catch in it, I fix me up to last another year in this dear old town, and I'll ask no more."

Try it.
"How are you spending your vacation?"
"In an ideal way. I'm pleased nearly all the time."

"That is rare. What is your method?"
"I spend two days in the country, then I'm glad to get back to the city. I spend two days in the city, then I'm glad to get back to the country. It's a great scheme."

The Good Old Days.
"Yes," complained the fat man, "conditions used to be much better than they are now."

"In what way?" asked the slim one.
"It seems to me conditions are better now than they have ever been in the past."

"No, you're wrong. Back in the days when men wore garters a fellow didn't have to worry for fear his shoe-strings might be untied."

ONE CONSOLATION.
"There's one thing I like about living in the city in summer."

"What's that?"
"I don't have to keep scrapping all the time with the janitor for more steam in the pipes."

A Warning.
You may play with other kinds of men. Try sprints and leaps and hops; But never, if you're wise to hints, Try gambling with the cops.

Resplendent Yet Dull.
"Why do you avoid Pimpson?"
"Because his garments hurt my eyes."

"That being the case, why don't you wear green goggles when you talk to him?"
"Because his conversation isn't worth that much to me."

Accounted For.
Patience—It is said that the total number of inhabitants of the Isle of Man is now 50,542, which shows a decrease of 4,210 during the past ten years.

Patrice—Can't blame the suffragettes for moving away from a place with a name like that.

Rocky Road to Harmony.
"What do you understand by the term 'harmony' in politics?" asked Mr. Rafferty.

"Harmony," replied Mr. Dolan, "is the condition that arises after some one man has got up and given a practical demonstration of his ability to whip a crowd."

Wistful Comparison.
"How lovely these woodland breezes are!" said the summer boarder.

"Yes," replied the man who likes town. "Every now and then one of them gets lively enough to give a rather creditable imitation of an electric fan."

Evidence.
"What makes you think your congressman is such a smart farmer?"
"Because," replied Farmer Cornstossel, "he made a habit of givin' all them garden seeds away instead o' tryin' to raise somethin' from 'em himself."

Alarming.
"Dibble is a warm-hearted fellow."
"Indeed he is! When Dibble 'glows' with a generous impulse, I'm almost afraid he'll set his clothes on fire."

For a brood sow prefer one of good length and breadth of body and placed on short, strong, well-made legs, set wide apart.

When our hens are allowed to become overfat, a disorder of the ovic duct is often the result, which causes it to "break down behind."

Slits will be built in large numbers this year, as many farmers had a sad experience keeping their cattle alive during the long, severe winter.

Man the Only Reasoning Animal.

Men act according to knowledge and reasoning ability. Other animals act by instinct born with them, and upon which they never improve. Birds build the same kind of nests right along. Men are always using their ability to improve their houses. Instinct is the name for the inferior kind of knowledge the lower orders of creation naturally possess. In some cases, as with dogs, horses, etc., this can be increased by careful training, or even by imitation.

Queen Elizabeth's Pedigree.

One of the most interesting curiosities at Hatfield is the pedigree of Elizabeth, which is to be seen in the gallery. Those intrusted to make out the document wisely discovered that her descent could be traced through every important person, and especially through every beautiful person, straight back to Adam and Eve. It is on record that the Virgin Queen highly commended the work.—London Evening Standard.

Jack and Bean.

Lord St. Levan owns that romantically beautiful Cornish fastness, St. Michael's Mount. Among other legends St. Michael's Mount is supposed to have been the scene of the fairy tale of "Jack and the Beanstalk," and hence come the nicknames of "Jack" and "Bean" borne by Lord St. Levan and his next brother, Major Edward St. Aubyn.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES

A Skin Trouble That Needs Scientific Treatment

Try this Remedy at Our Risk

Instead of toying with cosmetics and worthless "beauty formulas" if you will treat the case of pimples scientifically you will get results.

We advise using our new skin remedy, Saxo Salve, which is very soothing, yet penetrates the skin and exerts its healing power from the very moment of application.

Any pure soap may be used with this remedy, just apply Saxo Salve at night, following directions. Not only does it clear the face of pimples, but eczema and other angry itching, scaly or crusted eruptions soon yield to its healing power.

The marked and continued improvement noticed shortly after the treatment is begun will soon convince you that Saxo Salve is far superior to any other remedy for the skin.

Sight of the Color Blind.

A color blind person sees light as either white or gray and dark colors appear either as dark gray or black. This mutual sensitiveness is due to the fact that the light nerves and color nerves are closely interbound, but there is a different set of nerves for both light and color, just as there are different sets of nerves for temperature and for touch.

No Longer Forbidden City.

Lhasa, which is the capital of Tibet, for generations known as the Forbidden City, because of its political and religious exclusiveness. In 1904 a British armed expedition opened the mysterious old city. Previous to that time practically every European traveler had been stopped in the efforts to reach the place. The population of Lhasa is about 35,000.
